NATALIE STOCLET

HOSPITALITY · TRAVEL · DESIGN

A brand, marketing, and editorial consultant working with leading hospitality groups. A contributing writer for international travel and design publications. A designer with my own interiors featured in Architectural Digest.

Born in New York and raised in Tunisia, Morocco, Argentina, England, and Dubai, I have developed a distinctly global perspective and a discerning eye for design. My work spans brand building, creative direction, copywriting, marketing strategy, and editorial development. Across disciplines, I draw on a curiosity for culture, a strong sense of place, and a cultivated sense of taste.
